THE FLOATING BOXSPRING BED WITH LIGHTWEIGHT DESIGN.

Aurora

Aurora

The Aurora Boxspring bed features impressively lightweight, elegant design and a floating appearance. The simple geometric design appears graceful, indulges the senses and promises a feeling of security for restful nights. The subtly cubic details bring out the characteristic accents of this riposa classic.

Floating look thanks to the Cube system

The Aurora is invisibly fixed on the wooden «Cube» base and appears to float above the ground.

Lightweight, elegant proportions

The lightweight, elegant cubic design creates a modern and harmonious feeling of space in any bedroom.
Seamless appearance & anti-slip surface

The Aurora bed unit is optionally available in an end-to-end design, with a removable cover and anti-slip surface.

Your unique piece.

Turn your Aurora into a truly unique piece — from the construction to the fabric colour.

The choice is yours.

You can choose from over 70 fabrics and leathers in a wide range of colours and structures from the various riposa collections. Combine them with the wooden «Cube» base or the «Stiletto» metal foot (optionally available) and customise the Aurora to create your very own unique model.

Special Edition
Aurora Nuance

The monochrome Boxspring bed with a fascinating tone-on-tone look.

Swiss designer Jörg Boner has defined six monochrome colour families for the Special Edition Aurora Nuance. The individual parts – cover and feet – of the resulting bed variations complement each other in their tonality. This gives the Aurora Nuance a distinctively stylish, monochrome Boxspring look.

Studio.

Our Boxspring studio in the Glarus region.

In our Boxspring studio in Oberurnen we produce exclusive Boxspring unique pieces every day – each bed bears the personal signature of an experienced employee. Thus the traditional profession of upholsterer, which had almost disappeared in Switzerland, lives on at riposa. Today we are also training new upholsterers in our studio.

Technical data & finished size

Aurora Relax – technical data

STRUCTURE

The adjustable Boxspring base bed unit of the Aurora Relax is surrounded by an elegant padded frame on all sides. The duplex spring system inside, which consists of sturdy beechwood spring slats with a pocket spring core structure, gently absorbs the movements of the upper bed. This ensures optimum lying and spring comfort in accordance with the principles of Swiss Sleep Technology (SST).

AURORA RELAX, AUTOMATIC VERSION

The bed can be easily and continuously adjusted to the desired relaxing position at the touch of a button. From 160 cm, the sleep surfaces are in two parts and can be operated individually or in parallel (with a continuous bed frame).

AURORA RELAX, MIXED VERSION

In the mixed version, one sleep surface is automatically adjustable at the touch of a button, while the other sleep surface is fitted with a manual inclinable headrest.

Please note: the Boxspring beds from riposa are manufactured entirely by hand with care and craftsmanship. Slight sizing differences may therefore occur.

«MULE» FLOATING FOOT / «STILETTO» FOOT

The Aurora Relax Boxspring bed is supported by the discreet, black «Mule» floating foot made of beechwood as standard. The Aurora Relax model can optionally be provided with the «Stiletto» corner foot (black or coloured).

«CUBE» BASE

As an option, the Aurora Relax model can be equipped with the black «Cube» base, giving it a fully floating look.

HEADBOARDS

Two headboard sizes are available for individual bed compositions: the classic standard height and a higher «Long» version. The Aurora headboard can also be made without padding (no tacking/buttons and no horizontal stitching) for the same price.
